Sinful Folk A Novel Of The Middle Ages:

Sinful Folk Ned Hayes, 2014 Based on the true story of five children who were burned to death in 1377 Ned Hayes debut historical novel describes the desperate journey of a small band of villagers who traveled 200 miles across England in midwinter to demand justice for their children's deaths Cover flap

Medieval Crime Fiction Anne McKendry, 2019-05-14 Combining elements of medievalism the historical novel and the detective narrative medieval crime fiction capitalizes upon the appeal of all three the most famous examples being Umberto Eco's The Name of the Rose one of the best selling books ever published and Ellis Peters' endearing Brother Cadfael series Hundreds of other novels and series fill out the genre in settings ranging from the so called Celtic Enlightenment in seventh century Ireland to the ruthless Inquisition in fourteenth century France to the mean streets of medieval London The detectives are an eclectic group including weary ex crusaders former Knights Templar enterprising monks and nuns and historical poets such as Geoffrey Chaucer This book investigates the enduring popularity of the largely unexamined genre and explores its social cultural and political contexts

Books in the Life of a Child Maurice Saxby, 1997-10-15 Books in the Life of a Child explores the value of books and reading in the stimulation of children's imagination and their fundamental importance in the development of language and true literacy It examines not only the vast range of children's books available but also how to introduce young people to the joys of reading in the home the school and in the community The book has been written as a resource for all adults especially teachers student teachers librarians and parents and those who care about the value of literature for children It is a comprehensive and critical guide with chapters on the history of children's literature and an analysis of its many forms and genres from poetry fairytale myth legend and fantasy through realistic and historical fiction to humour pulp fiction and information books

The Bone Fire György Dragomán, 2021 Finalist for Le prix du Meilleur livre étranger France A Finalist for the Premio von Rezzori Italy Longlisted for the Prix Femina France From an award winning and internationally acclaimed European writer and for fans of The Tiger's Wife A chilling and suspenseful novel set in the wake of a violent revolution about a young girl rescued from an orphanage by an otherworldly grandmother she's never met

The Illuminator Brenda Rickman Vantrease, 2005-12-27 A glowing first novel that brings us historical fiction in the grand epic manner beautifully felt and written It is England in the fourteenth century a time of plague political unrest and the earliest stirrings of the Reformation The printing press had yet to be invented and books were rare and costly painstakingly lettered by hand and illuminated with exquisite paintings Finn is a master illuminator who works not only for the Church but also in secret for John Wycliffe of Oxford who professes the radical idea that the Bible should be translated into English for everyone to read Finn has another secret as well one that leads him into danger when he meets Lady Kathryn of Blackingham Manor a widow struggling to protect her inheritance from the depredations of Church and Crown alike Finn's alliance with Lady Kathryn will take us to the heart of what Barbara Tuchman once called the calamitous fourteenth century Richly detailed and irresistibly compelling

Brenda Rickman Vantrease's The Illuminator is a glorious story of love, art, religion, and treachery at an extraordinary turning point in history. Treasures of Heaven Martina Bagnoli, Cleveland Museum of Art, British Museum (London), Walters Art Museum (Baltimore), 2011. Keynote: A magnificent study of the beautifully crafted Medieval reliquaries that enshrined holy relics and their wider historical, cultural, political, and religious context. Sales points: Published in conjunction with Walters Art Museum and the Cleveland Museum of Art to accompany a major touring exhibition at the British Museum, 23 June - 9 October 2011. No equivalent book on this fascinating subject. An important reference work drawing on the latest scholarship which will be of value far beyond the exhibition. Description: Drawing on three major museum holdings as well as featuring iconic pieces from other international public and private collections, this richly illustrated book looks at the phenomenon of holy relics in the Middle Ages. Thematic essays and object entries by leading scholars trace the history and development of the cult of relics from its beginnings in late Roman funerary practices to its rise in both the Byzantine East and the West. Contributors: Derek Krueger, Eric Palazzo, Arnoldt Angenendt, Martina Bagnoli, Holger A. Klein, Barbara Boehm, Guido Cornini, Cynthia Hahn, James Robinson, Alexander Nagel, C. Griffith Mann. Judaism in Practice Lawrence Fine, 2021-04-13. This collection of original materials provides a sweeping view of medieval and early modern Jewish ritual and religious practice. Including such diverse texts as ritual manuals, legal codes, mystical books, autobiographical writings, folk literature, and liturgical poetry, it testifies to the enormous variety of practices that characterized Judaism in the twelve hundred years between 600 and 1800 C.E. Its focus on religious practice and experience, how Judaism was actually lived by people from day to day, makes this anthology unique among the few sourcebooks available. The volume encompasses the broad scope and complex texture of Jewish religious practice, taking into account many aspects of Jewish culture that have hitherto been relatively neglected: the religious life of ordinary people, the role and status of women, art and aesthetics, and marginalized as well as remote Jewish communities. It introduces such remarkable personalities as Moses Maimonides, Leon Modena, and Gluckel of Hameln, and presents extraordinary texts on festival practice, Torah study, mystical communities, meditation, exorcism, the practice of charity, and folk rites marking birth and death. Representing state-of-the-art scholarship by distinguished academics from around the world, the volume includes many materials never before translated into English. Each text is preceded by an accessible introduction, making this book suitable for college and university students as well as a general audience. Whether read as a deliberate course of study or dipped into selectively for a glimpse into fascinating Jewish lives and places, Judaism in Practice holds rich rewards for any reader. Sophie's World Jostein Gaarder, 1994. The protagonists are Sophie Amundsen, a 14-year-old girl, and Alberto Knox, her philosophy teacher. The novel chronicles their metaphysical relationship as they study Western philosophy from its beginnings to the present. A bestseller in Norway. Positively 4th Street David Hajdu, 2002-04-10. Examines the lives of folk musicians Joan Baez and Bob Dylan. Joan's sister Mimi Baez Farina and Mimi's writer husband Richard and discusses the impact of the four young people on the sound and style of the 1960s The Invention of Race in the European Middle Ages Geraldine Heng, 2018-03-08 This book challenges the common belief that race and racism are phenomena that began only in the modern era Rabelais and His World Mikhail Mikhailovich Bakhtin, 1984 This classic work by the Russian philosopher and literary theorist Mikhail Bakhtin 1895 1975 examines popular humor and folk culture in the Middle Ages and the Renaissance One of the essential texts of a theorist who is rapidly becoming a major reference in contemporary thought Rabelais and His World is essential reading for anyone interested in problems of language and text and in cultural interpretation The Middle Ages in 50 Objects Elina Gertsman, Barbara H. Rosenwein, 2018-05-31 The extraordinary array of images included in this volume reveals the full and rich history of the Middle Ages Exploring material objects from the European Byzantine and Islamic worlds the book casts a new light on the cultures that formed them each culture illuminated by its treasures The objects are divided among four topics The Holy and the Faithful The Sinful and the Spectral Daily Life and Its Fictions and Death and Its Aftermath Each section is organized chronologically and every object is accompanied by a penetrating essay that focuses on its visual and cultural significance within the wider context in which the object was made and used Spot maps add yet another way to visualize and consider the significance of the objects and the history that they reveal Lavishly illustrated this is an appealing and original guide to the cultural history of the Middle Ages The Eagle Tree Ned Hayes, Steve Silberman, 2018-07 A young autistic boy mobilizes his Pacific Northwest community to save an old growth tree I Am Morgan le Fay Nancy Springer, 2002-09-16 Fans who love King Arthur's legend Camelot Merlin and similar tales will love reading about Morgan le Fay Morgan is a willful mischievous girl with mismatched eyes of emerald and violet A girl of magic whose childhood ends when King Uther Pendragon murders her father and steals away her mother Then Pendragon dies and in a warring country with no one to claim the throne there are many who want Morgan dead But Morgan has power and magic She is able to change the course of history to become other to determine her own fate and thus the fate of Britain She will become Morgan le Fay Springer wields language like a sword and both blood and flowers spring to these pages in vivid hues Booklist starred review A Book of English Literature Franklyn Bliss Snyder, 1942 Home Reading Service Fabio Morábito, 2021-11-16 In this poignant novel a man guilty of a minor offense finds purpose unexpectedly by way of his punishment reading to others After an accident or the misfortune as his cancer ridden father's caretaker Celeste calls it Eduardo is sentenced to a year of community service reading to the elderly and disabled Stripped of his driver's license and feeling impotent as he nears thirty five he leads a dull lonely life chatting occasionally with the waitresses of a local restaurant or walking the streets of Cuernavaca Once a quiet town known for its lush gardens and swimming pools the City of Eternal Spring is now plagued by robberies kidnappings and the other myriad forms of violence bred by drug trafficking At first Eduardo seems unable to connect He movingly reads the words of Dostoyevsky Henry James Daphne du Maurier and more but doesn't truly understand them His eccentric listeners including two brothers one mute who moves his lips while the other acts as ventriloquist deaf parents raising children they don't know are hearing and a beautiful wheelchair bound mezzo soprano sense his detachment Then Eduardo comes across a poem his father had copied by the Mexican poet Isabel Fraire and it affects him as no literature has before Through these fascinating characters like the practical quick witted Celeste who intuitively grasps poetry even though she never learned to read Fabio Morbito shows how art can help us rediscover meaning in a corrupt unequal society

Anglo-Irish Poems of the Middle Ages British Library, Angela M. Lucas, 1995 The English poems of the British Library Manuscript Harley 913 were written in Ireland in the early 14th century The manuscripts have strong Franciscan associations Sometimes called The Kildare Poems both because of their associations with that area and because one of them claims to have been written by Friar Michael of Kildare the poems show considerable influences of the Irish culture in which they were called They are also full of ideas themes and images which are part of the Western European Christian tradition and especially close in affinity to the acknowledged works of Franciscan friars They are a witness to English literature in Ireland at this period

African Banjo Echoes in Appalachia Cecelia Conway, 1995 Throughout the Upland South the banjo has become an emblem of white mountain folk who are generally credited with creating the short thumb string banjo developing its downstroking playing styles and repertory and spreading its influence to the national consciousness In this groundbreaking study however Cecelia Conway demonstrates that these European Americans borrowed the banjo from African Americans and adapted it to their own musical culture Like many aspects of the African American tradition the influence of black banjo music has been largely unrecorded and nearly forgotten until now Drawing in part on interviews with elderly African American banjo players from the Piedmont among the last American representatives of an African banjo playing tradition that spans several centuries Conway reaches beyond the written records to reveal the similarity of pre blues black banjo lyric patterns improvisational playing styles and the accompanying singing and dance movements to traditional West African music performances The author then shows how Africans had by the mid eighteenth century transformed the lyrical music of the gourd banjo as they dealt with the experience of slavery in America By the mid nineteenth century white southern musicians were learning the banjo playing styles of their African American mentors and had soon created or popularized a five string wooden rim banjo Some of these white banjo players remained in the mountain hollows but others dispersed banjo music to distant musicians and the American public through popular minstrel shows By the turn of the century traditional black and white musicians still shared banjo playing and Conway shows that this exchange gave rise to a distinct and complex new genre the banjo song Soon however black banjo players put down their banjos set their songs with increasingly assertive commentary to the guitar and left the banjo and its story to white musicians But the banjo still echoed at the crossroads between the West African griots the traveling country guitar bluesmen the banjo players of the old time southern string bands and eventually the bluegrass bands The Author Cecelia Conway is associate professor of English at Appalachian State University She is a folklorist who teaches twentieth century literature including cultural perspectives southern literature and film The Golden Age of Folk and Fairy Tales ,2013-03-15 In the late 18th and early 19th centuries attitudes toward history and national identity fostered a romantic rediscovery of folk and fairy tales This is the period of the Golden Age of folk and fairy tales when European folklorists sought to understand and redefine the present through the common tales of the past and long neglected stories became recognized as cultural treasures In this rich collection distinguished expert of fairy tales Jack Zipes continues his lifelong exploration of the story telling tradition with a focus on the Golden Age Included are one hundred eighty two tales many available in English for the first time grouped into eighteen tale types Zipes provides an engaging general Introduction that discusses the folk and fairy tale tradition the impact of the Brothers Grimm and the significance of categorizing tales into various types Short introductions to each tale type that discuss its history characteristics and variants provide readers with important background information Also included are annotations short biographies of folklorists of the period and a substantial bibliography Eighteen original art works by students of the art department of Anglia Ruskin University not only illustrate the eighteen tale types but also provide delightful and sometimes astonishing 21st century artistic interpretations of them
