the fold and sonic space in Asian architecture the fold and visual space in Hokusai's Thirty Six Views of Mount Fuji the Walkman contemporary Japanese anime and Deleuzian nomadism Deleuzian faciality and the cultural politics of facial images in Korean beauty pageants the 2011 Taiwanese film Warriors of the Rainbow Seediq Bale and the Deleuzian concepts of the minor and the people to come Deleuzian haecceities affects and fragmented spaces in the films of Lou Ye and Wong Kar wai the Nu Shu writing system the only writing system developed exclusively by women and the formation of a female people to come and Deleuzian minor literature and its relationship to globalization nationalism and regionalism in Asian literature These essays map new directions in East West research that promise to invigorate Asian studies and disclose hitherto unrecognized dimensions of Deleuze's thought

Taming Time Livia Kohn, 2021 Time literally is of the essence It is a key feature in all cultures determining human thought expectations actions and developments The great master of time studies J T Fraser describes it in terms of six major temporalities that move at different speeds in unique environments Matching the evolution of the universe they include 1 the atemporal or timeless state of primordial chaos 2 the prototemporal realm of quantum simultaneity 3 the eotemporal long term rhythms of the stars 4 the biotemporal dimensions of living creatures 5 the no temporal phenomena of brain and mind and 6 the sociotemporal world of clocks and calendars history and society analysis and philosophy This book examines Daoist ways of working with time in terms of these six temporalities beginning with language the architect of time located at a cross point between society and brain It then moves through the six types in reverse order beginning with myths and philosophical concepts and concluding with mystical oneness in cosmic timelessness To place the Daoist notions in context each chapter presents the modern scientific understanding of time as well as comparative perspectives from other cultures Daoists it turns out often match science in terms of basic concepts but offer different practices to reverse entropy overcome limitations and ultimately tame time by going beyond it Taming Time is encyclopedic in scope and global in outlook It challenges preconceived notions and raises new perspectives in the study of time as it expertly clarifies Daoist visions

Dreams, Illusion, and Other Realities Wendy Doniger O'Flaherty, Wendy Doniger, 1986-02-15 Wendy Doniger O Flaherty weaves a brilliant analysis of the complex role of dreams and dreaming in Indian religion philosophy literature and art In her creative hands enchanting Indian myths and stories illuminate and are illuminated by authors as different as Aeschylus Plato Freud Jung Kurl G del Thomas Kuhn Borges Picasso Sir Ernst Gombrich and many others This richly suggestive book challenges many of our fundamental assumptions about ourselves and our world Mark C Taylor New York Times Book Review Dazzling analysis The book is firm and convincing once you appreciate its central point which is that in traditional Hindu thought the dream isn't an accident or byway of experience but rather the locus of epistemology In its willful confusion of categories its teasing readiness to blur the line between the imagined and the real the dream actually embodies the whole problem of knowledge O Flaherty wants to make your mental flesh creep and she succeeds Mark Caldwell Village Voice

The Zhong-Lü System of Internal Alchemy Livia Kohn, 2020

This exciting new work translates two 12th century texts associated with the legendary immortals Zhongli Quan and L Dongbin founders of the Zhong L tradition of internal alchemy First the Zhong L chuandao ji in dialogue format outlines the cosmological parameters of the practice then describes various methods of attainment Second the Lingbao bifa assembling various revealed sources and commentaries presents similar concepts and adds more specific practices In addition to the translations The Zhong L System provides a discussion in five chapters Historical Unfolding The Workings of the Universe The Human Condition Stages and Processes and Key Practices It makes both the underlying cosmology and the practical transformation accessible and understandable in plain straightforward language Beyond providing an in depth understanding for modern practitioners the work is essential for anyone concerned with Daoist history cosmology and internal alchemy tended to be relegated to a marginal position often conceived as the mere destructive or undesirable opposite of memory even though it performs an essential function in our lives Forgetting and memory far from being autonomous and mutually exclusive spheres should be seen as interdependent phenomena Drawing on perspectives from history philosophy literature and religion and examining both transmitted texts and excavated materials the contributors to this volume analyze various ways of understanding oblivion and its complex and fertile relations with memory in ancient China

Living in Time Barry Allen,2023 Barry Allen here explains the philosophical ideas of Henri Bergson a French philosopher prominent in the early 20th century Allen puts forward Bergson as worthy of re appraisal and explains and interprets the arguments across Bergson s work in order to show why they are relevant to Anglophone philosophy today A chapter is devoted to each of Bergson s four major works explaining his theories of time perception memory and panpsychic consciousness his innovative concept of virtual existence his objection to Darwin his controversy with Einstein his philosophy of creative evolution and his social philosophy of closed and open society

Patriarchs on Paper Alan Cole,2016-11-08 The truth of Chan Buddhism better known as Zen is regularly said to be beyond language and yet Chan authors medieval and modern produced an enormous quantity of literature over the centuries To make sense of this well known paradox Patriarchs on Paper explores several genres of Chan literature that appeared during the Tang and Song dynasties c 600 1300 including genealogies biographies dialogues poems monastic handbooks and koans Working through this diverse body of literature Alan Cole details how Chan authors developed several strategies to evoke images of a perfect Buddhism in which wonderfully simple masters transmitted Buddhism s final truth to one another suddenly and easily and of course independent of literature and the complexities of the Buddhist monastic system Chan literature then reveled in staging delightful images of a Buddhism free of Buddhism tempting the reader over and over with the possibility of finding behind the thick facade of real Buddhism with all its rules texts doctrines and institutional solidity an ethereal world of pure spirit Patriarchs on Paper charts the emergence of this kind of fantasy Buddhism and details how it interacted with more traditional forms of Chinese Buddhism in order to show how Chan s illustrious ancestors were created in literature in order to further a wide range of real world agendas

Daoism, Meditation, and the Wonders of Serenity Stephen Eskildsen,2015-11-04 Stephen Eskildsen offers an overview of Daoist religious texts from the Latter Han 25 220 through Tang 618 907 periods exploring passive meditation methods and their anticipated effects These methods entailed observing the processes that unfold spontaneously within mind and body rather than actively manipulating them by means common in medieval Daoist religion such as visualization invocations and the swallowing of breath or saliva Through the resulting deep serenity it was claimed one could attain profound insights experience visions feel surges of vital force overcome thirst and hunger be cured of ailments ascend the heavens and gain eternal life While the texts discussed follow the legacy of Warring States period Daoism such as the Laozi to a significant degree they also draw upon medieval immortality methods and Buddhism An understanding of the passive meditation literature provides important insights into the subsequent development of Neidan or Internal Alchemy meditation that emerged from the Song period onward
