| A Test strategy is a high-level document that defines an approach on how to test and approach testing at the organizational level. | A Test Plan is a granular level document defining what, how, and when to test the project level. |
| A test strategy sits on top of the test plan and the test plan takes clues from the test strategy on how testing will take place. | Intend is to write down all possible end-user flows. They are mapped and traceable to test scenarios. |
| An organization would have only one test strategy defining the overall organizational approach towards testing and test strategy would not change. | Whereas an organization could have multiple test plans customized as per the project requirement which can change and updated with time. A project can also have more than one test plan depending on the requirement. For e.g., a project could have a test plan to govern overall testing and an automation test plan for automation testing. |
