Sinhala Bonnie G. MacDougall, Kamini De Abrew, Foreign Service Institute (U.S.), 1979      Sinhala Bonnie G. MacDougall, Kamini De Abrew, Foreign Service Institute (U.S.), 1979      Modernizing Composition Garrett Field, 2017-03-22 A free ebook version of this title is available through Luminos University of California Press's Open Access publishing program Visit www.luminosoa.org to learn more The study of South Asian music falls under the purview of ethnomusicology whereas that of South Asian literature falls under South Asian studies As a consequence of this academic separation scholars rarely take notice of connections between South Asian song and poetry Modernizing Composition overcomes this disciplinary fragmentation by examining the history of Sinhala language song and poetry in twentieth century Sri Lanka Garrett Field describes how songwriters and poets modernized song and poetry in response to colonial and postcolonial formations The story of this modernization is significant in that it shifts focus from India's relationship to the West to little studied connections between Sri Lanka and North India      Charred Lullabies E. Valentine Daniel, 1996-11-11 How does an ethnographer write about violence How can he make sense of violent acts for himself and for his readers without compromising its sheer excess and its meaning defying core How can he remain a scholarly observer when the country of his birth is engulfed by terror These are some of the questions that engage Valentine Daniel in this exploration of life and death in contemporary Sri Lanka In 1983 Daniel walked into the ashes and mortal residue of the violence that had occurred in his homeland His planned project the study of women's folk songs as ethnohistory was immediately displaced by the responsibility that he felt had been given to him by surviving family members and friends of victims to recount beyond Sri Lanka what he had seen and heard there Trained to do fieldwork by staying in one place and educated to look for coherence and meaning in human behavior what does an anthropologist do when he is forced by circumstances to keep moving searching for reasons he never finds How does he write an ethnography or an anthropography to use the author's term without transforming it into a pornography of violence In avoiding fattening the anthropography into prurience how does he avoid flattening it with theory The ways in which Daniel grapples with these questions and their answers instill this groundbreaking book with a rare sense of passion purpose and intellect      Sophie's World Jostein Gaarder, 1994 The protagonists are Sophie Amundsen a 14 year old girl and Alberto Knox her philosophy teacher The novel chronicles their metaphysical relationship as they study Western philosophy from its beginnings to the present A bestseller in Norway      The Garland Encyclopedia of World Music Alison Arnold, 2017-09-25 In this volume sixty eight of the world's leading authorities explore and describe the wide range of musics of India Pakistan Bangladesh Sri Lanka Kashmir Nepal and Afghanistan Important information about history religion dance theater the visual arts and philosophy as well as their relationship to music is highlighted in seventy six in depth articles      More Open Than Usual?
