John B. Allen,2007 A comprehensive history of skiing from its earliest origins to the outbreak of World War II this book traces the transformation of what for centuries remained an exclusively utilitarian practice into the exhilarating modern sport we know today E John B Allen places particular emphasis on the impact of culture on the development of skiing from the influence of Norwegian nationalism to the role of the military in countries as far removed as Austria India and Japan Although the focus is on Europe Allen s analysis ranges all over the snow covered world from Algeria to China to Zakopane He also discusses the participation of women and children in what for much of its history remained a male dominated sport Of all the individuals who contributed to the modernization of skiing before World War II Allen identifies three who were especially influential Fridtjof Nansen of Norway whose explorations on skis paradoxically inspired the idea of skiing as sport Arnold Lunn of England whose invention of downhill skiing and the slalom were foundations of the sport s globalization and Hannes Schneider whose teachings introduced both speed and safety into the sport Underscoring the extent to which ancient ways persisted despite modernization the book ends with the Russo Finnish War a conflict in which the Finns using equipment that would have been familiar a thousand years before were able to maneuver in snow that had brought the mechanized Soviet army to a halt More than fifty images not only illustrate this rich history but provide further opportunity for analysis of its cultural significance Crucible for Conservation Robert W. Righter,2008-04 With its unmatched mountains and broad vistas it is difficult today to imagine that the land of the Tetons could be anything but a national park But for over fifty years the question of national park status remained unsettled as a myriad of public and private interests fought for control over Jackson Hole and the Tetons Many divergent views of conservation and land use had their hearing in Jackson Hole during the long struggle to establish the Park Rugged individualists cattlemen Easterners New Dealers state s righters state of Wyoming officials Forest Service personnel and Park Service leaders all wanted hegemony over Jackson Hole and the Tetons The way in which they cajoled fought sued each other and ultimately resolved the issue is a classic case in the difficulties of park making Grand Teton National Park is thus no product of chance but rather the design of men and women working in a noble cause What they achieved was Righter suggests perhaps the most notable conservation victory of the twentieth century
